

Dutch Wedding Feature Of Pageant Thursday

Historic Representation to Be Presented By Kingston Folks—Gala Day In Old Wiltwyck To Be Reproduced By Actors Who Have Been Carefully Selected For Their Parts—Crowd of 25,000 Spectators Expected.

At least twenty-five thousand people will witness the big Pageant to be given under the auspices of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and the Kingston Chamber of Commerce on the grounds of the Kingston Driving Park Association on Thursday, and ample arrangements have been made to accommodate this large crowd. The general admission to the grounds to view this wonderful Pageant is only fifty cents. Reserved seats, for which there is an extra charge of one dollar, accommodating five thousand people, have been erected. As a large number of these have already been sold, anyone contemplating attending this performance and desiring one of these reserved seats better secure it at once. There are a very few boxes still left. They may be obtained by calling up the Ulster County Farm Bureau, telephone call 383-W, the Ulster County Home Bureau, telephone call 514-J, or the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, telephone call 504. The price of a box is fifteen dollars.

Sufficient space has been allotted for the parking of all automobiles for which there will be absolutely no charge. The arrangements for the parking of the cars is under the personal supervision of Dr. George F. Chandler, assisted by Captain Daniel E. Fox and a large force of State Troopers, which is a sufficient guarantee that one can leave his car, witness the performance and return finding everything in as perfect condition as when he left it.

Getting to the Grounds.
If by any chance one does not know where the grounds of the Kingston Driving Park are, they are situated at the end of North Manor avenue. Starting from the uptown section of the city, one goes out Albany avenue, turns at the first street to the left after crossing the Ulster & Delaware Railroad bridge, and then goes to the end of that street. One will probably find State Troopers on the corner of Albany and Manor avenues directing traffic. If coming from Saugerties, one turns to the right at Manor avenue, but the best directions that can be given and the best way of being sure to get there is to follow the crowds on that day, for everyone will be going to that one place.

A Colonial Wedding.
One of the big scenes in this big Pageant, and one that is probably attracting the most interest in this city, is the Colonial Wedding. This tableau is in charge of and under the personal direction of Mrs. George F. Chandler, who takes an important part in it, and who has given much thought and care to its production. This picture alone will be worth more than the price of admission.

The Wedding Party.
The scene is laid in the old village of Wiltwyck. The town has grown considerably, but as most of the houses have been built on the other side of the creek, of course, you cannot see them. All day long guests are arriving by boat from up and down the river; by post chaise, by coach, on horseback and in queer old conveyances that will sturdily withstand the want of macadam roads. The arriving guests are cordially greeted by the parents of the bride and groom, and then as cordially to their meet old friends, sometimes seldom seen. Old time friends gossip about far away days in other lands. New acquaintances, as now, make up in mirth what they lack in matter, and get better acquainted in half an hour than their ancestors did in half a century. It is certainly a gala day.

The most charming and popular girl in all the country side is to marry one of the most promising men in this locality. Mrs. Ralph Gregory is to impersonate the bride and Captain William R. Kraft the groom. No better selections could have been made. At first it was intended to have a best man for the groom, but there was only one man who could fill the bill and that was Bert Hildebrand, but on account of his modesty and shyness, he refused the offer. No amount of persuasion could change his mind, so the management had to be content with his being one of the guests. Whether or not the audience will recognize him in the scene is yet to be determined. The best thing to do is to take a pair of strong field glasses with you as he may not so modest as to drop out of the wedding procession and may be discovered witnessing the performance from behind the bushes at the back of the stage.

The Other Principals.
The mother of the bride is to be taken by Mrs. Chandler. That it will be well done, goes without saying, for no matter what character she might

HINTS FOR SPECTATORS WHO ATTEND PAGEANT

Opera glasses and field glasses will be very useful articles to bring to the Pageant grounds. Automobile robes and piazza cushions will add greatly to the comfort of the spectators, whether on the grass or in the reserved seats. Eatables of all kinds and soft drinks will be for sale on the grounds. For those who come early and bring their lunch the State Troopers will put on some daring rough rider stunts in the driving park about 1:30 p. m.

Actors who forget their admission tickets will find that their costumes will let them in at the gate.

Impersonate, whether as a mother, a daughter, a sister or an aunt, it would be done well as to merit the approval of the audience. The father of the bride will be David Burgevin. Dave has been busily engaged all his life in giving out sweet charity to the poor and beautiful flowers to his friends. It will be no hardship for him to give away his charming daughter on this occasion, even if she is an only child. Attorney William D. Brinlier is expected to be one of the guests at the wedding, and he will be there if he can spare the time to get away long enough from feeding the fish in the new lake he has just been building in the rear of his place. The affable and genial George Washburn of Saugerties will also be one of the guests. He will close his brick yards at Catskills and give his employees a three days' vacation, one day for them to prepare for the Pageant, one day to attend the Pageant and the third day for them to recover from the effects of having attended the Pageant.

Time will not permit to mention the names of all the other characters in this great scene. The wedding procession is about to start off when across the fields can be seen a rider on a spirited horse. Above and all about him are numberless white doves, some resting upon his shoulders. As he draws nearer one can see a pack of Great Danes following him, leaping up and endeavoring to lick his hands. When he arrives on the scene, it is discovered that it is Bert Chambers, having just ridden over from his beautiful farm known as Maple Lane. Bert is a great lover of animals and they all seem to love him. And now the wedding ceremonies take place, inside of the bride's house.

The Little Girls Dance.
While this is being solemnized, sixteen little Dutch girls who have been hanging about do a folk dance outside, unwilling to leave until they have seen the young couple drive away. These young girls were taught and drilled by Miss Margaret Richards.

The bride and groom come out presently and after having been congratulated by their friends, start on their honeymoon, the children scattering flowers in their pathway. The old shoe was tossed after them for good luck, the same then as it is today. After the bride and groom have departed the guests again repair to the house to finish the repast which had been so bountifully prepared for them, and in the midst of which they were interrupted by the sudden departure of the principals in this important scene. No one should miss seeing this tableau.

WILL FILM DESTRUCTION OF TALL BRICK CHIMNEY

Joseph Marone of Saugerties has purchased the tall brick chimney at the old shale brick plant at Catskill. He will use the old shale brick in it. The chimney is one of the highest in that section. Scenes will be taken for moving picture films when the chimney is torn down as the producers will be considered spectacular.

CONTINUE TRIAL IN COUNTY COURT SATURDAY

The civil action of Rose Kelley against Mildred Green, which went on trial before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler on Monday, was not finished at the end of the day. Judge Fowler adjourned court until Saturday morning when trial of the case will be resumed.

Man Killed Hunting Birds

Lowville, N. Y., June 26 (AP).—Joseph James Webb, 34, was killed late Monday by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while hunting blackbirds on his father's farm near here. The trigger caught in a fence as the lad was climbing over and the fall charge of shot struck him in the chest.

Pershitz, in Jail, Seeks Help from Alimony Payers

New York City Organization Interests Itself in Case of Granite Man Who Has Refused to Obey Court Order to Contribute for Support of His Child.

The Alimony Payers' Protective Association of New York city has interested itself in the case of Morris Pershitz of Granite, indicted by the grand jury several months ago on a charge of abandoning his child, and through its New York city organization to which Mr. Pershitz appealed, is seeking to learn why Mr. Pershitz has been confined to the county jail on a few occasions.

Mr. Pershitz was indicted on December 14, 1926, by the grand jury on a charge of abandoning his small child, a violation of section 450 of the penal law, constituting a felony. At the January term of county court the case first came up, when on January 19 Mr. Pershitz was arraigned under the indictment and entered a plea of not guilty. At that time he was represented by Chris J. Flanagan and Henry Klein. On his plea of not guilty, bail in the sum of $750 was fixed by the court and Mr. Pershitz at that time put up cash to the amount demanded by Judge Joseph M. Fowler. This cash bail was turned over to the county treasurer. At that time District Attorney Traver asked that bail be fixed at $1,500 but agreed to accept the $750 cash bail provided Mr. Pershitz would make a payment toward the support of the child. After consulting his counsel he finally agreed to make a payment and on January 12 he paid $100 and this sum was turned over to the National Council of Jewish Women and that organization disbursed the money. That was the only money paid by Mr. Pershitz until the April term of county court was convened.

Pershitz Did Not Want Trial.
At the April term of court at which Judge Fowler presided the case was moved for trial on April 14 by District Attorney Traver. Counsel for Pershitz and the defendant himself did not want to go to trial and it was agreed between Henry Klein, counsel for Pershitz, and Judge Fowler that Pershitz be released without bail until the June term of county court and that the $750 be deposited as security for the payment of $7 a week toward the support of the infant child. That agreement was embodied into an order, and was entered on the minutes of the court.

With the understanding that the case would go over to June and that Pershitz would be released without bail and the $750 cash bail would be posted as security until such time as he could provide other security, the case again rested in April. At that time it was agreed and the court directed that the cash security be held until such time as Pershitz provided a bond of $1,000 as security. He never provided the bond and the cash was retained by the court.

Under the arrangement made by the court the $7 a week was to be paid monthly and turned over to Hyman Levine, manager of the Jewish Agricultural Society at Elmhurst. Pershitz paid the first installment on April 16. However, when May 11 rolled around and the second payment was due there was nothing forthcoming. Again on June 11 the payment was not made, in accordance with the order of the court.

As provided by the court order in April, the case was again noticed for trial at the June term. District Attorney Traver sent notice to Mr. Pershitz at his various addresses, and notified his attorney but when the case was called in June Mr. Pershitz failed to appear.

Bench Warrant Issued.
At that time Mr. Traver made two motions, one was for forfeiture of the $750 cash security held as security for payment of the $7 a week payments in which Pershitz was then in default. This was denied by the court. Mr. Traver then moved for the issuance of a bench warrant and the order was entered on June 17 and on June 18 Pershitz was picked up by Sheriff Rice on the road near his home, when he stopped the car of the sheriff and asked for a ride.

Agreed to Provide Bail.
On June 27 in county court Pershitz, who had since been in jail, appeared. His counsel, Henry Klein, was present. Pershitz stated that he wanted to get out of jail. Mr. Traver insisted that since Pershitz had given so much trouble during the past few months and had failed to appear as the court directed in June and had only appeared when a bench warrant had been issued and executed, it would be well to again have bail. He asked that $500 be paid in addition to the security for payment of the weekly allowance be fixed by the court. Pershitz and his counsel stated that the $750 was sufficient but that Mr. Traver informed them that the $750 was not bail but was security fixed by the court to guarantee the payment of the weekly allowance. Pershitz finally agreed to provide the $500 cash bail as directed by the court and the case was held over until the September term of county court.

Since the first payment of money was made and at the time of the issuing of the bench warrant for his arrest, Pershitz was in considerable anxiety. Since the court order has been entered he has been from four to eight weeks in arrears.

No Claim for Alimony.
At no time has the $7 a week been demanded as alimony. It is for the support of the infant child of which Pershitz has never denied being the father. At no time when the case has been noted in court has he denied that he is the father. Two of his trips to jail have been because he has refused to comply with orders of the court. In jail Pershitz promises to obey the court orders but when released he apparently forgets the order and consequently finds himself back in jail.

Mr. Pershitz is employed as a bookkeeper in the town of Tarrytown where he is attempting to support himself and child while Pershitz apparently attempts to evade the law.

U. S. Delegates Not Alarmed

Over Japanese Revelation of Their Inclination to Support the British View on Question of Limitation.

Geneva, June 28 (AP).—While some observers have expressed fears that the tri-partite naval conference has reached a critical stage because the American and British representatives have not yet been able to come together on the question of reopening the Washington treaty, the American delegation was wholly undismayed today. The Americans' equanimity was not even disturbed by the Japanese revelation of their inclination to support the British view on the question of limitation of the size and armament of battleships, consideration of which would mean re-discussion of problems thought to have been solved by the Washington treaty of 1922. Neither does the General by the Japanese of an intention to seek a security pact with the United States, array the delegation in the least.

The determination of the American delegates to restrict the conference to the scope outlined by President Coolidge's invitation to the powers remains unchanged, but their spokesman was non-committal with regard to the Japanese hint that the conference might well be adjourned for a certain length of time in order to allow a period of reflection to all the powers represented, and, above all, to permit the British to return for further consultation with the home government without having suffered the American refusal to reopen the capital ship question.

The fact that the technical experts of the conference were due to forge ahead today with discussion of the thorny cruiser problem after having gone far in settling the status of such minor craft as Chinese river gunboats and minesweepers, is interpreted here as meaning that progress is being made.

Banks Said Wife Tormented Him

As a Result He Was Arrested Charged With Disorderly Conduct and Received Suspended Sentence—Other Cases in Police Court Before Judge Shufeldt.

Pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, William Banks this morning in police court informed Judge Shufeldt that it was all due to his wife tormenting him. He had been arrested by Officer Keating Monday on Abell street charged with using loud and indecent language.

While Banks was explaining to the judge how it happened, a woman, who is a neighbor to the Banks family stepped up to the bar of justice and rolling back the long sleeves on her shirt waist called Judge Shufeldt's attention to some marks on her arms which she said were inflicted by Banks who, she said, had entered her house and pushed her to one side.

She said that Banks had broken some of the supper dishes and ruined the supper when he upset it on the floor. Banks said he had no recollection of such a happening but he informed Judge Shufeldt that he was willing to pay for any dishes he was charged with breaking.

After thoroughly discussing the matter Judge Shufeldt sentenced Banks to ten days in jail and suspended the serving of the sentence pending Banks' future good behavior.

Cecil Fined $10.
Cecil Osterhoudt, a negro, arrested Monday on a charge of disorderly conduct downtown, was fined $10.

Bergman Case Adjourned.
Louis Bergman of Cleveland, Ohio, arrested by Frank L. Tichenor of Stapleton, L. I., on a charge of reckless driving following a collision Monday between their cars at Pearl and Wall streets, pleaded not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to Wednesday morning. Mrs. Tichenor was cut on the face as a result of the collision.

Thurs. June 28 (AP).—Lillian D. Thorne, operating taxi and her wife, the former Lina Chandler, have applied to the Tarrytown court for a divorce.

Army Plane Over Pacific Toward Hawaiian Goal

Fokker Piloted By Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger Pass Over Golden Gate at 140 Miles an Hour—Smith Forced To Come Back.

Municipal Airport, Oakland, Cal., June 28 (AP).—With a civilian monoplane waiting here to take off on a non-stop flight to Honolulu, the triple-motored army Fokker presumably was well out over the Pacific ocean today traveling toward its Hawaiian goal at an estimated speed of 140 miles an hour. It was piloted by Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland and navigated by Lieutenant Albert Hegenberger, both of the United States army.

It was announced before the army plane started that the craft probably would cruise along at about 90 miles an hour for the first 2,000 miles and then increase to 125 miles an hour the rest of the way. Army officers at the airport and those who flew in escort formation behind the ocean flyer, however, declared that the Fokker attained a ground speed of about 100 miles an hour and that as it passed over the Golden Gate it was traveling at least 140 miles an hour.

The five D.H. planes sent up to accompany the Fokker to the Golden Gate were left far behind and by the time they reached the entrance to the bay the Fokker was far out over the sea.

Smith Back at Airport.
Ernest L. Smith, civilian aviator attempting the Golden Gate-Hawaiian flight in competition with the army Fokker C-2, returned to the airport here a few minutes after his take-off.

Smith declared he was forced to come back because the mica window that was supposed to protect him from the wind blew in upon his face.

BOY SHOT IN LEG BY ANOTHER BOY SUNDAY

Herbert Baker, 16 years old, whose father is in charge of a barge belonging to Dwyer Brothers of this city, was shot in the left leg Sunday afternoon by another boy, Harry Law, 12 years old, of Cementon. The shooting was done with a blank cartridge pistol. The Law boy, it is said, placed in the muzzle of the pistol a cartridge that had been exploded. He pulled the trigger and the cartridge entered the other boy's leg above the knee. The wounded boy kept the fact from his father until Monday morning, when owing to his condition he was unable to hide it. He was taken to the Kingston City Hospital that afternoon and had the wound dressed and then left. The shooting took place near Cementon.

FINAL REHEARSAL FOR PAGEANT TONIGHT

A final rehearsal will be held tonight for the entire cast of the Ulster County Pageant at the Pageant grounds. This is the only full rehearsal that will be given before the final presentation on Thursday afternoon. Those who are participating in the Pageant and who live outside of the city of Kingston should be at the Pageant grounds by 7 o'clock. The Kingston actors, who appear in the later scenes, should be at the grounds not later than 8 o'clock.

Injured in Fall.
Mrs. Jacob Wolf of this city, while visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shultis at their home in Saugerties Sunday, fell down a flight of stairs and was painfully injured. She was descending the stairs when she tripped and fell. Mr. James Krom attended her and found she had sustained a sprained back and several teeth had been loosened. She was able to return to Kingston despite her injuries.

Sent to Albany Penitentiary.
In Ulster county court Monday afternoon Josephine Thero was sentenced to a term of eight months in the Albany county penitentiary. The defendant had been sentenced about two weeks ago to the Bedford Reformatory but they had refused to take her because she was too old for admittance there.

Malden Man in Jail.
Fred Schaefer of Malden was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail by Justice H. D. Abel of Saugerties on a charge of intoxication and breaking into his brother's home and acting in a disorderly manner. Sunday Troopers Stephen and Cash, made the arrest.

30 Days For Hanson.
Hanson Saunders, a negro, arrested some time ago on complaint of Louis Wedemann, who charged the negro with petit larceny, withdrew his former idea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Legume Held For 3 Days.
Anatole Legume, 27 years old, arrested in office Monday for loitering on Greenhill avenue Monday night, was committed to jail for three days so that the court could get in touch with his relatives in New York city.

Apply for Divorce.
Thurs. June 28 (AP).—Lillian D. Thorne, operating taxi and her wife, the former Lina Chandler, have applied to the Tarrytown court for a divorce.

Lihme Employees Destroy $250,000 Art Treasures

Disatisfied With Wages Paid Them By C. Bai Lihme, Servants Stage Drinking Bout in Fifth Avenue Apartment and Destroy Valuable Art Objects.

New York, June 28 (AP).—Dissatisfied with tips and wages given them by their wealthy employer, C. Bai Lihme, retired millionaire zinc manufacturer, three apartment house employees held a drinking orgy in his exclusive Fifth avenue apartment, according to police, and destroyed $250,000 worth of rare furniture and art objects.

Ham bones, knives and tongs were tossed recklessly about with valuable Van Dyck and Rubens canvases, statuary, costly rugs and tapestries as the principal targets.

A mirror, 50 feet square, was smashed to bits and a $17,000 organ was wrecked. The wreckage, which police and insurance adjusters declared exceeded anything they ever had seen before, occurred Sunday shortly after the Lihme family had gone to their summer home in Newport. It was discovered yesterday when an interior decorator called to transfer paintings to an exhibition.

While two of the accused employees, elevator operators, awaited arraignment in Harlem court today, police sought a third alleged participant.

The vandals confined their activities chiefly to the first floor of the home, comprising the three top floors of a fourteen story building.

The police said the two elevator men, John Healy and George Tierney, both 30, have confessed "We did it," they quoted the men as saying, "because Lihme didn't raise our wages and because he didn't tip us."

The trio was said to have entered the apartment from an elevator opening directly into the Lihme home. Foodstuffs were removed from an ice box and consumed during the course of the drinking session.

Bottles were thrown through Rubens' "Portrait of an Old Man," valued at $15,000 and Van Dyck's "Lionelli and Family," a seventeenth century masterpiece valued at $100,000.

Two portraits, those of Mr. Lihme's daughters, Princess Anita L. Lohkowitz and Mrs. Clement A. Griscom, 3rd, of Philadelphia, were virtually destroyed. Gobelin tapestries and period furniture were ripped and shattered by hacking and pounding.

MCANDREW LOST COAT AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Raymond McAndrew, 28, of Kingston, who was injured last Wednesday in an accident on North Road, notified Sheriff C. Fred Close Sunday that his coat was left in an automobile which took him to the hospital and has not been returned, says the Poughkeepsie Eagle-News. McAndrew was riding with Isaac Trowbridge when the car collided with another machine operated by Harry A. Preston of Rensselaer.

McAndrew was cut on the back of his neck. He was taken to St. Francis Hospital by a young man and woman in a Ford sedan. He left the coat in their car and did not learn their name or address. The coat contains some papers and if the young people still have the garment, Mr. McAndrew would like very much to have it back.

BOY, FIVE YEARS OLD, RESCUES HIS BROTHER.

Cornwall, N. Y., June 26 (AP).—After falling over a 100 foot ledge and suffering a fractured skull, Allen Bassett, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bassett of Dundee, was rescued by his brother, Paul, aged 5 years, who unassisted managed to get his injured brother home by a route that took over an hour to travel.

The younger lad saw his brother fall over the ledge and Paul found a place where he managed to slide and drop in almost a miraculous manner to where his brother had landed. Although Allen was not unconscious he was bleeding freely from the wound on his head and but for the heroic efforts of the younger lad would undoubtedly have suffered more serious consequences from his injury.

PRINCIPAL AND BRIDE OFF FOR SECLUDED SPOT

Cornwall, N. Y., June 26 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Hiram Holden are on a honeymoon to a secluded spot far away from guests following their wedding here at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swift.

Mrs. Holden was Miss Linda Swift. She and Holden, principal of the rural free school at New Corn, Rockland county, were the center of gossip about their friendship for months in New Corn because of the Holden's custom of carrying her home. She was then a teacher in the school and they were engaged. The small town gossip led to a request for Mr. Holden's resignation and the school was given to teach for another term.

State Troopers Here for Ulster County Pageant

Troop C, In Command of Captain Fox, Arrives With 60 Men, 33 Horses and 12 Motorcycles, to Handle Boat Race Crowds Wednesday and Pageant Crowd Thursday.

Kingstonians awoke to the fact Monday afternoon and this morning that two events of unusual importance are going to take place within the immediate vicinity during the next two days when they discovered Captain Fox, in command of Troop C of the New York State Troopers, stationed on the grounds between the armory and the American Cigar factory with sixty-nine men, thirty-three horses, and a fleet of twelve motorcycles.

"Why are they here?"—was the query on the lips of hundreds of people who witnessed the unusual spectacle Monday evening and this morning. Almost ninety-nine out of every hundred were able to conclude immediately that "of course they have something to do with the Ulster County Pageant."

In arriving at such a conclusion those ninety-nine persons out of every hundred were essentially correct. Captain Fox and his large squad of men and horses have been ordered here for the purpose of helping to handle and direct the twenty-five thousands persons who are expected to visit Kingston on Thursday for the purpose of witnessing the huge Historical Pageant which is to be given that afternoon. Furthermore, in the words of Captain Fox, "Every one of the men is proud to be here and to be working once again under the command of Colonel George F. Chandler, the original organizer of the constabulary."

The constabulary troop arrived in Kingston two days early because of the fact that they have also been detailed to help handle the huge crowds at Highland on Wednesday which are expected to witness the annual intercollegiate boat races.

Give Exhibition Thursday.
On Thursday afternoon at 1:30 the Champion Rough Riders of the United States, all members of Troop C, will give an exhibition of their work on the pageant grounds. These men gained their title of national champions by virtue of the fact that they were adjudged winners in the national meet which was held at the Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial last summer.

In addition to winning the national championship these men have also won the state championship for the last four years. They received an invitation recently to appear at a large Indiana state gathering but were forced to refuse because of their engagement to attend the Ulster County Pageant.

They have also been invited to attend the famous Calgary Stampede at Calgary, Canada, which is to be held about the middle of July. This is one of the most famous stampedes in the world and is looked upon as one of Canada's greatest events. It will be opened this year by the Prince of Wales.

Every one of the horses in the troop is spotted, which Captain Fox claims is in itself a very unusual thing as spotted horses are very scarce.

Colonel Chandler's Horse Here.
Included among the horses is one that Colonel Chandler of this city selected ten years ago this month and which he rode throughout his entire period of service as commander of the State Troopers.

The men and horses make a fine appearance and have called forth a great deal of favorable comment on the part of those who have seen them at their headquarters at Broadway.

In an interview this morning Captain Fox said that the work of the troopers is constantly increasing. In support of this statement he mentioned the fact that during the month of May, 1926, his troop had made 737 arrests, while during the month of May, 1927, they had made 1,244 arrests.

The men will be in town all during the day. This morning Captain Fox and Colonel Chandler visited the Pageant grounds and made their plans for handling the huge crowds which will be in the city on Thursday.

The men will leave early Wednesday morning for Highland, where they will be stationed all day. The thirty-three horses were transported from Sidney in trucks.

HOOR HANDS ON CAR CUTS MAN'S THROAT

Syracuse, N. Y., June 26 (AP).—The door handle on a passing car caught Dennis Pienabian behind the jaw as he stepped from behind a stalled car today and his throat was cut. He died within a few minutes. Police officers, who were on duty at the time, were quickly dispatched to the scene.

ULSTER GARDEN CLUB EXHIBITION THURSDAY

The Ulster Garden Club will on Thursday, June 30, have an exhibition of flowers from the gardens of the members at the Up-To-Date Store, Wall street. The exhibition of floriculture given by the club yearly are admirable and if the exhibition this week is as attractive as the last one, the many people who will be in town that day for the Pageant will admire the showing of beautiful flowers. The windows selected for the exhibition are finely located and ideally adapted for the display of the flowers to good advantage.

TWO FIRE COMPANIES DIVIDE $50 PRIZE.

The James Hill Hook and Ladder Company and the J. N. Ring Hose Company of Rensselaer were tied for the prize given to the company coming the longest distance to participate in the firemen's parade at Poughkeepsie last Thursday, and the prize of $50 has been divided between the companies. It was announced Sunday night by Chief Chris W. Noll, of the Poughkeepsie fire department and chairman of the local committee of arrangements for the 38th annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The decision was made after the board of engineers of the local fire department checked up on distances Saturday when a group of companies apparently were close to each other in mileage.

Chief Noll also announced that the decorations which were put up for the firemen's convention will remain up until after the intercollegiate regatta Wednesday.

Poughkeepsie has been fortunate recently in having conventions in the city just before boat race day. Last year the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Grand Army of the Republic held state encampments there and the city was decked in gala array, the decorations being kept in place until after the regatta.

Miss Kellner Graduated.

Kathryn Kellner, formerly of Kingston and a graduate of K. H. S. in the class of 1923, is visiting friends here. Last week she was graduated from the New York State College for Teachers at Albany. She has secured a position for the summer as supervisor of playgrounds in the Washington Park, Albany.

Probe Starts At Poughkeepsie

ALBANY, N. Y., June 28 (AP).—The State Civil Service Commission has summoned Mayor Lovelace of Poughkeepsie and the municipal civil service commission to appear before the state commission at a meeting at Poughkeepsie this afternoon. The state commission announced it intends to investigate conduct of municipal civil service affairs in Poughkeepsie, after a preliminary survey several days ago.

PAYS $25 FINE FOR RECKLESS DRIVING.

Frank Shader of West Camp paid a fine of $25 when arraigned before Justice H. D. Abeel at Saugerties Monday on a charge of reckless driving. A charge of driving a car while intoxicated was withdrawn. Shader was arrested on Sunday afternoon by Officer John Lavelle at Malden and jailed. It was alleged that Shader had collided with the Buick car of Herbert DeLaney of New York, resulting in the damaging of Buick and his own Chevrolet. The cars were taken to Puzin's garage at West Camp.

Honor and Riches
A gracious woman retaineth honor: and strong men retain riches. The merciful man doeth good to his own soul; but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.—Proverbs 11:16, 17.

Bankers Named In Indictments

Los Angeles, June 28 (AP).—The bubble of Jullina Petroleum Corporation's finances, which burst several weeks ago under the inflation of more than four million shares of over issued stock, climaxed during the last few days by the indictment of 45 persons, most of them high in Los Angeles finance circles, promised new sensations today with approximately ten more to be named by the county grand jury.

With seven officers of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank named in yesterday's 26 indictments on charges ranging from embezzlement and violation of banking laws to usury, the board of directors announced that the resignations of all of the accused officials had been placed in its hands, effective at its pleasure.

The directors of the bank, one of the largest financial institutions in Southern California, made a plea that the public suspend judgment on the men pending findings of the courts.

The bank's officers named included Charles F. Stern, president, accused of embezzlement and violation of the law governing bankers' bonuses; John E. Barber, president of the First Securities Company, and vice president of the First National Bank, on similar charges; and William Rhodes Harvey, executive vice president, H. A. Bell, executive vice president, P. L. McMullen, cashier, W. I. Hollingsworth, director and Motley H. Flint, executive vice president on usury charges.

Oysters With a Pedigree

The artificial propagation of oysters has been considered very remote by reason of the difficulty or the impossibility of isolating the eggs of the bivalve because any filter paper fine enough to arrest impurities in the water was, nevertheless, porous enough to permit the extremely minute eggs to pass through and to escape. The problem was in the end solved by utilizing an apparatus modeled in principle upon the lines of a rotary cream separator—the sought-for eggs being left clinging to the surface of the separator while the undesirable impurities were carried off. The eggs so saved were, from day to day, stimulated with fresh water and brought, step by step, to maturity. In this manner, oysters with a pedigree were produced; and it will now be possible to greatly improve the size and quality of the oysters.

Stock Exchange Term

A "put" is a contract which gives the possessor the right to deliver to the party signing the same a certain amount of stock at a named price, during the time stated in the contract. "Puts" are dealt in more extensively in London than in New York. A "put," as executed in New York, will read as follows: "For value received, the bearer may deliver me on one day's notice, except the last day, when notice is not required, 100 shares of the capital stock of the Arctic Electric company, at $175 per share, any time within 30 days from date." Then follow the signature, time of expiration and an agreement that all dividends paid upon the stock in the meantime shall accompany the stock in case of the rights of the "put" being exercised.

Familiar to Racing Men

Tattersall's is the name of an old and well-known horse market situated at Knightbridge Green, London. It was established in 1770 by Richard Tattersall, and its business is largely in connection with the sale of thoroughbred horses. The name is also applied to one of the enclosures situated upon race-courses.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 28, 1927.

It is stated that only 25 per cent of the men in a large prison are married and it is concluded from this instance that "single blessedness" leads to crime. This is about the hardest rap bachelors have yet received.

It seems that Bergdoll, the celebrated draft dodger, is looking for an opportunity to fly back to America under the misguided impression that this will transform him into a glorious hero and cause the American public to take him to its heart.

A young woman of New York State has been granted annulment of her marriage on the ground that the young man in the case falsely claimed to be a millionaire. But if he leaped greedily at such a bait in too great haste, it would seem that forced acceptance of the consequences could hardly be described as unjust retribution.

A London hostess of high degree having counted 250 uninvited persons as they ate her food and danced on her floors, Mayfair in general has decided to follow the example of the Duchesse of Sutherland who recently announced that her guests would be expected to show their invitations before being admitted. Apparently those strange, almost incredible creatures called "crashers," who push in at large parties uninvited, are to get their finish at last.

The poets, even in France, are still singing of the New York to Paris flight, but it is noticeable that they avoid the term "Icarian," which in former times never failed to be employed in reference to human flights or ambition to fly. This is well enough, for Icaros, son of Daedalus, who flew with his dad from ancient Crete, ventured too near the "glowing orb of day," with the result that the solar heat melted the wax with which his wings were fastened on and he fell into the sea.

LITERARY EXECUTIONS.

In the preface to the latest collection of Sherlock Holmes stories Sir Arthur Conan Doyle says his hero has outlived his time and will not be allowed to "make repeated farewell bows" to an indulgent audience. Commenting, the New York Times says: "What to do with a successful detective in fiction is as serious a problem as the disposition to be made of ex-Presidents. A Sherlock Holmes cannot continue his career indefinitely—not because his creator loses his inventive powers, but because he can not keep the detective in character and at the same time bring him up to date. The methods of the famous sleuth are not those of 1927, and it would change the man to change his manner." The Times adds: "From Doyle's comments one gathers that he feels as sorrowful as Thackeray when he killed off Colonel Newcombe."

Thackeray could hardly have been, and Doyle is hardly likely to be, as profoundly sad as Anthony Trollope was when he killed his dear Mrs. Proudie. In his autobiography Trollope relates that he overheard two members of his club complaining of the weariness with which his recurrent characters, particularly Mrs. Proudie, afflicted them. Thereupon Trollope admitted his identity to the two astonished clubmen and said: "I will go home and kill her before the week is over." And so he did, but the literary execution cost him many a tear. Indeed, he confessed that he "kept" to part with the sharp-tongued, gossip-loving "Bishop's lady" who had figured in so many of his stories wherein life in Anglican church circles had been so accurately pictured with touches of genial humor. Sherlock Holmes, Col. Newcombe and Mrs. Proudie were doubtless more real to their creators than the next-door neighbors.

REUNION OF PLAINSMEN.
Many a reader must have been surprised to find the following paragraph in the Dispatch describing the recent reunion of old-time Western plainsmen at Norfolk, Nebraska: "The frontiersmen who discussed many matters of the frontier life included Capt. Luke North of Columbia, of Pawnee scout fame; 'Deadwood Dick' of Deadwood, S. D.; 'Doc' Carver, the 'Evil Spirit of the Plains'; 'Pawnee Bill' of Oklahoma; 'Doney' Forest of Wyoming; 'Diamond Dick' of Norfolk and 'Idaho Bill' Pearsons." Some of these are names that at one time completely captured the imagination of the country and inspired tales of the frontier without number. Evidently not a few of the old fighting plainsmen who survived their hand-to-hand fights with the Indians have lingered long on this side of the Great Divide.

The very mention of their names, says the New York World, "brings back ghosts of the dim past, when the dime novels of Street & Smith, George Munro and Beadle & Adams were all over the land. These very men indeed, together with their colleagues, were the heroes of these dime novels." The World recalls "Deadwood Dick in Leadville," "Deadwood Dick, the Prince of the Road," "Deadwood Dick's Eagles," and others. "Diamond Dick" is credited to Sam S. Hall, the Wild Western writer from Wilmington, Del. Pawnee Bill one can not find, but he had his biographer just the same, and will be remembered in connection with the Wild West show in which he appeared in the early days of the century. Buffalo Bill is gone, Kit Carson, once counted as one of the greatest Americans who ever lived, a fellow who enjoyed acclaim almost as great as Daniel Boone's, is now almost forgotten. And Texas Jack Omohundro, another of the glamorous crew, must be many years in his grave by now.

The Fellow Who's Satisfied

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

LOOK out for the fellow who's satisfied. And who thinks he knows it all; He has missed his chances and never tried.

So he's due for a good hard fall. He believes there's nothing more to know.

That he's quite as smart as they make. In fact he thinks he's the whole show

And most other folks a fake. But while he was patting himself on the back,

This poor, self-satisfied guy: He got switched off on a one-way track

While the chances passed him by. You've got to be up and doing today.

With your eye on the goal ahead, And you've got to be quick or the chance

Will go away. And the other chap has it instead.

You can't sit around in this age of ours. When there's such a lot to do.

And every one of life's wasted hours Means just that much loss for you.

You must have still higher things in view. And know there's a lot to learn.

That there's always something better to do. And a chance at every turn.

And the man who knows that he doesn't know.

Is more than half on the way TO KNOW, and make his knowledge grow.

More vital with every day. So don't be content till you've done

Your best, And never be satisfied. Until you've met the hardest test,

And have tried, and tried, and TRIED!

And THEN don't be satisfied, My Friend; For there's greater things to do

Than were ever done—and there's just no end

To the chances in store for YOU! (Copyright.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON.

"CATERWAULING"

THIS term, frequently used to describe a tumult of harsh noises, is assumed to refer, of course, to the cries of cats. And while it is true that this association enters into its significance, there is far more to the word than that. There is a story in its origin.

"Caterwauling" is English for "Katsenmusik" (cat music), which is the German translation of "Charivari," the name of a well known institution of French rowdiness of former times.

"Charivari" described the hubbub and uproar produced by the noise of pots and pans and dishes mingled with bawling and shrieking which was designed to express dislike or disapproval of the person against whom it was directed. During the Middle Ages in France a charivari was frequently raised against people marrying the second time, the widow particularly being hooted by the masked participants who usually had to be bought off to give the victims peace. The same thing happened at weddings where the mating was considered unequal because of great disparity of age.

"Charivari" existed under different names in many countries in Europe, sometimes taking such violent form that military interference was necessary to put it down. In the fourteenth century the church threatened punishment and even excommunication to people participating in such demonstrations. Later charivari took on a political significance, as during the Restoration in France. By that time, however, the world had advanced to the stage where the attacks and violence began to take intellectual rather than physical form, the medium being the public press. Indeed, a paper called "Charivari" was established in Paris in December, 1832, with the avowed purpose of satirizing the happenings of the day. From this came the German "Katsenmusik" and the English "Caterwauling."

COUNTRY PHYSICIANS AND THE CITY.

The medical journals are bemoaning the fact that country doctors are becoming scarce, and that something should be done about it. In some centres the villagers and farmers get together and subscribe a certain amount toward the maintenance of a physician, thus assuring him of a living at least.

However it is not only the living that is driving the country doctor to the city, but also the lack of hospital facilities for proper diagnosis and treatment.

This country doctor as he travels anywhere and everywhere, becomes quite self reliant, but he realizes that with a laboratory within an hour of him, that his service to his patient would be increased many times.

The laboratory tests of blood, urine, of suspected diphtheria, tuberculosis, X ray of stomach, intestine, gall bladder, are all beyond his reach. The thought of all this help that he saw given every day to patients, poor and rich, in the city hospitals, whilst he was a student, surgeon over him as he meets case after case the diagnosis of which could be cleared up almost instantly with such help, and give him a good start in his treatment.

The president of the Canadian Medical Association has been advocating that centres be established in country districts equipped with every modern aid in diagnosis. This would be paid for by the state, and the saving in health and in life, would pay for this many times over. Another point about such a centre is that the country doctor would not only meet these laboratory physicians, but would meet other country physicians there, and these consultations would be of help to their patients and themselves.

So it is not just the love of the city with its easier hours and easier work that is luring the country doctors away from the country, but the lack of facilities for more accurate diagnosis.

Although skill counts as much in these days as ever it did, it is only fair to the patient that he receive the benefit of every diagnostic aid.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Wednesday, June 29.

Tunes to which our fathers and mothers, grandfathers and grandmothers danced, in fact, practically all of the popular numbers from Civil War days up to and including songs of the late World War, will be revived when the Davis Saxophone Orchestra broadcasts their program through WJZ on Wednesday night. The Maxwell Hour will consist of music and songs rendered by National Artists, the Davis Saxophone Orchestra, Franklyn Bair, tenor soloist, and Rex Schep, banjoist. The concert will be broadcast as always for the benefit of those who tune to WJZ and the Blue Network. The story of "The Speaking Bird," which will be related by Schenckel's orchestra, will be broadcast through WJZ and the Blue Network. Goldmann's Band with soprano, Ladda Madden, will entertain the WJZ. Other highlights will be a program by Ella Boitfort, contralto, and Helen Howe in original monologues, scheduled by WJZ. A military band in concert with a glee club for WJZ, and the Crosey Instrumental Trio, with Melville Ray, tenor, to be broadcast by WLW.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By the Associated Press.

New York.—The marines have a new mascot, Private Padgett, a pedigree English bulldog with a wrinkled black and white face. He arrived on the Leviathan. Captain Hartley of the Leviathan is certain that the mascot is a real live devil dog. Private Padgett had been locked in the captain's bath room and the captain entered without notice. He got out intact except for a portion of his blue silk pajama coat.

Rapid City.—Something in the Dakota climate or the call of the wild is making the summer White House pets restless. Rob Roy, collie, is being punished by being tied to a stake. He went chasing a porcupine and it took presidential persuasion to get him back. And Rebecca, the raccoon, stayed a whole day atop a pine before she would return.

Newark, N. J.—Colonel Arthur J. Hanson, who has come from Detroit to administer prohibition, brought four cats with him and they are staying in his hotel. Eight more are coming with Mrs. Hanson.

Plymouth, Vt.—A birthday card, measuring three feet by four, is on the way from President Coolidge's birthplace to Rapid City. The wrapper says "to be opened July 4." The card contains a map of the country, with a lighted candle and a greeting from the governor in each state. The postage cost Governor Weeks of Vermont $5.70.

New York.—Peaches is down to 144 pounds. During those separation trials she scaled 163. Bandages that the eyes cannot escape indicate where some embarrassing avoidance was. And she has a new diamond wrist watch, a birthday present.

Windsor, N. Y.—Thirty-seven years ago there was a double wedding in this town in which Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Roberts were principals. That was the last affair of the sort here till a son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts helped provide another. And so a town holiday was declared.

New York.—Bad Stillman and his woodland bride are to have a honeymoon in Europe. They will leave on the Olympic from New York August 1 after their marriage at Grande Anse, Que., July 26.

Norristown, Pa.—Captain George Zina, former tennis star, has remarried his first wife, the former Mary Hassell Cameron of Richmond, Va., whom he divorced 13 years ago. He divorced his second wife three months ago.

ASHOKAN

Ashokan, June 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Buley and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buley and son, Jack, and Miss Margaret Zelliff spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Davis.

Mrs. Charles Green and Marion gave Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kinney a motor trip to Woodstock and Bearsville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hogan and Fordyce Herrick motored to Newburgh on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barringer.

There will be a dance at Winchell's Hall, Saturday, July 2. A good time is promised.

Miss Carrie Brooks, who is in training at the Kingston City Hospital, is home for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Smith and granddaughters, Edith Van Patton and Vivian and Irene De Lalla, of Schenectady spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smith.

Mrs. Olive Cudney attended the reunion of the Roosmas and Averss, which was held in Colange's Hall at West Shokan on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Jones and family attended church at Ashokan and Pacama Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Merrihew and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Merrihew and Clayton Brown called at Charles Healey's, West Shokan Heights, Sunday.

Virginia and Burton Cudney and Marjorie Davis, who have been spending a few days with "Aunt" Maggie Harkness of West Shokan, have returned to their homes in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Elson Oakley and family of Olive Bridge spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lyons. Mr. Oakley and Mr. Lyons attended the Odd Fellows' picnic which was held in Lambert's grove.

Marjorie Davis is spending the week in Kingston visiting her brother, Clifford Davis, of Levan street. Clifford Bogart of Kingston called on his sister, Mrs. Charles Davis, on Sunday afternoon.

Irene Dhallio and her sister, Vivian, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Smith.

The Higher the Colder

As we ascend in society, like those who climb a mountain, we shall find that the line of perfect composure coincides with the higher circles; and, the nearer we approach to the grand imaginary court, the more frigidity and apathy shall we experience.—Colton.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

A MARY GRAHAM BONNER

EDITH'S DOG

Nick and Nancy had met the smallest dog they had ever seen that afternoon.

Of course when Daddy came home they told him about it.

"He was so cunning," said Nancy. "Yes," said Nick, "and he was all fixed up in a little brown coat, which exactly matched his own little brown coat."

"Was he a little Chinese dog?" asked Daddy.

"Yes," replied Nancy, "we couldn't help but stop and talk to his mistress, and she told us he was a little Chinese dog."

"She also told us that he had his full growth, and that certainly was very little."

"That reminds me," said Daddy, "of the story I have meant to tell you for some time of the little Pekingese dog who was given a tea party in honor of his first birthday by his mistress."

"Chung Wang was his name, and it was his first birthday."

"His mistress' name was Edith, and she was more devoted to little Chung Wang than to almost anything else, and he was just as fond of her."

"He would follow her around wherever she went."

"But to continue about his birthday party. He was one whole year old, and, of course, he must have a birthday party."

"So Edith thought a tea party would be the very nicest kind."

"Besides, Chung Wang had always seemed to like tea better than any other meal."

"So, for that reason, Edith thought to give Chung Wang a party all for himself and to have it a tea party would be quite the nicest thing she could do in honor of his first birthday."

When the Dogs All Came.

"Edith invited a few of her friends who owned little dogs to come to the party."

"When the dogs all came in they carried in their mouths presents for Chung Wang."

"One brought a beautiful flower, and this was fastened to his collar."

"Another little dog brought a new red sweater, still another brought a cushion for Chung Wang to sleep on."

"Chung Wang barked his 'Thank you' each time Edith opened the parcels for him, and then the other dogs wagged their tails, which meant, 'You're very welcome.'"

"And then the tea table was brought in with a big cake in the center upon which was burning brightly a tall red candle."

"All the little dogs barked some more. They wanted to say:

"Many happy returns of the day!"

"How they all did enjoy the tea party!"

"First they had little saucers with cream, a little sugar and a drop of tea all mixed up together."

"Then they had little chunks of buttered toast with sugar on top."

"Then they all had several little cakes, and each got a piece of birthday cake, so they considered it a very rich, fine party."

The Game of Adjectives

One player commences to read a story; but for each adjective he says "cross."

For instance, he might say, "Once there was a cross old man, with three cross sons and three cross daughters," when actually the story reads "fine old man, handsome sons, and beautiful daughters."

As the player reads, the rest write down his words, leaving a gap every time he says "cross." He dictates one or two paragraphs, then quickly reads the rest of the story. Afterwards the rest of the players are allowed five minutes in which to fill in what they consider would be the correct adjectives in the dictated paragraphs. He or she whose adjectives most nearly correspond with those in the book is the winner.

Crying for a Tooth

Baby Betty had been fretful, and Teddy had heard his mother tell several how cross baby was, but that she would be all right when she cut that first tooth.

"How's Baby Betty this morning?" a neighbor asked of Teddy one morning.

"Her's all right this morning. She cut the tooth her has been crying for."

Flood Loss in Holland

During the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries Holland suffered from among great floods, in several of which the loss of life exceeded 100,000 persons.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned, Supervisor of the Town of Shenandoah, in the County of Shenandoah, State of New York, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 30th day of June, 1927, at 12 o'clock noon, bonds of the Town of Shenandoah which are chargeable against said town of Shenandoah, and are to be collected from the taxable real property within the Shenandoah Water District, or in case of an enlargement of said water district, from the taxable property within such enlargement, of the following denominations and maturing on the following dates, to wit:

Forty (40) bonds, numbered from one (1) to Forty (40) respectively, each of the par value of one thousand dollars ($1,000), due and maturing per annum, and are deemed payable to the provisions of the Town Law, the General Municipal Law, and all Acts and resolutions adopted by the Town Board of the Town of Shenandoah on the 30th day of June, 1927.

Said bonds are offered for the purpose of paying for the purchase price of a water collecting and distributing system within the Shenandoah Water District, and for all additions and improvements thereto.

The terms of sale are as follows: The bonds must be paid for in cash at the time of the sale, at which time the bonds will be ready for delivery, and the bonds will bear date the 15th day of June, 1927.

In the event the sale of the bonds of the Town of Shenandoah, New York, shall be made, the bonds will be sold to the highest bidder, but in the event the highest bid for the bonds is less than the aggregate of the aggregate of the bonds to be sold, the bonds will be sold to the highest bidder. The Town will not be liable to the purchaser, or to any other person, for any loss or damage in relation to the bonds, or to the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

JAMES A. SHEPHERD, Supervisor Town of Shenandoah.

"HOW MUCH will you allow on my used car?"

THIS is a commonly asked question, since most new car sales now involve the trading-in of the purchaser's used car.

Theoretically, you can get almost any allowance you want, if you are willing to buy a new car whose price has been arranged to permit an excessive trade-in offer.

Practically, the largest allowance is not the best deal for you unless the new car has been priced to give you full new car value, without regard to trade-in.

When you trade-in your present car for a new car, remember that after all you are making a purchase—not a sale. So be guided by these basic facts:

- 1 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value; i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

Granite State To Honor Heroes

Albany, N. Y., June 28 (P).—New Hampshire is to honor her sons who fought at the battles of Saratoga and Bennington, one hundred and fifty years ago this month.

G. Waldo Brown, of Manchester, N. H., chairman of the New Hampshire Commission entrusted with providing the memorials, has informed Dr. Alexander C. Flick, New York historian, that the Granite State has appropriated 2,000 for two markers, one to be placed on the Bennington battlefield at Wallingford, N. Y., and the other on the Saratoga field.

Each memorial will be a bronze tablet set on a boulder brought from New Hampshire. The Wallingford marker will bear the name of General John Stark, hero of the battle of Bennington and a native of New Hampshire. It will be dedicated on August 16, anniversary of the engagement. Two lineal descendants of General Stark have signified their intention of being present at the ceremonies. One of them is William P. Farmer, great-great-grandson of the soldier's standard bearer in the battle.

The Saratoga marker will be unveiled on October 8, the date of the celebration that is to mark the victory of the Americans over Burgoyne. This tablet will commemorate the heroism of the New Hampshire troops in the battle, and will display, in relief, one of the guns captured by the left wing of the American army.

All the states in the Union have been invited to place memorials to the American dead on the Saratoga field.

BLIND MOUNTAINEER MAKES POETRY AND MUSIC

Pottersville, N. Y., June 28 (P).—William Wallace goes about this little Adirondack village making poems about the mountains he can no longer see.

When Wallace was twelve years old an accident robbed him of the sight of both eyes. Undaunted by the affliction, he took violin lessons and now plays so well that his fiddle is heard at many mountain dances.

He dearly loves his memories of the beautiful Adirondack country and has written many poems descriptive of mountain scenes. At the dances and other entertainments he is sometimes called upon to recite them.

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, June 27.—On last Wednesday evening a class of twenty-two graduated from the Saugerties High School with exercises held in the auditorium of the building, before a large audience of friends and parents.

The Rev. R. J. Van Deusen and family of Oneonta, N. Y., formerly of Katonah, are spending some time with friends and relatives in this vicinity.

What should a girl pay for a dentifrice?

What's your opinion? We think that 25c is ample, provided the dentifrice is scientifically correct for all types of teeth.

With this idea in mind, we created Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Now it is sweeping the country. Everywhere it is supplanting old and costlier favorites. Because it saves the average person $3 per year.

Last year it saved $30,000 for 10,000 stenographers. $42,000 for 14,000 factory workers. And where there were several in a family the savings were tremendous.

This wonderful dentifrice gets teeth whiter in quicker time than ever before. In it are sixteen ingredients to meet every requirement for white, gleaming teeth, firm, pink gums and a sweet, healthy mouth.

Among them is an amazing new polishing agent which gets teeth gleaming white with almost no brushing whatever.

Get a tube at your druggist today. Judge it by its results alone. And then remember how much it saves you.

Loan Associations Confront Problem

Home Financing Institutions Have More Idle Money Than at Any Time Since the War—Nearly Three Billion Dollars Available Annually.

When representatives from 13,000 building and loan companies, home-ownership associations and cooperative banks, meet at the annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations at Asheville, N. C., July 19-22, they will discuss a problem that has not confronted these institutions for the last ten years—an easy money market.

A survey recently made by Herman F. Callahan, secretary of the building and loan men's national organization, disclosed that, with the exception of home-ownership companies in a few southern states, home financing institutions in this country have more idle money now than at any other time since the war.

Building and loan associations last year helped finance $30,000 new homes in the United States, and in 1925 furnished the money for the erection of nearly 500,000 residences. Although building construction during the first four months of 1927 almost equals in volume the figures for a similar period in 1926, there has been a decided falling off in home building, while industrial and commercial building has shown a slight increase. On the other hand, resources of building and loan associations of the United States are now increasing more than a quarter of a billion dollars a year. These institutions at the beginning of 1927 having assets of $8,350,000,000.

Inasmuch as 40 per cent of the resources of these institutions are turned yearly, it means that building and loan companies have nearly $3,000,000,000 a year available for home financing purposes. No other nation in the world, according to George E. McKinnis, Shawnee, Okla., president of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, has such an immense fund available for the financing of homes.

WORKS OUT AGREEMENT WITH NINE RAILROADS.

Philadelphia, June 28 (AP).—One of the greatest problems in the enforcement of prohibition in this section has been solved, federal officials believe, in the ratification of an agreement by Colonel Samuel O. Wynne, dry administrator for the Philadelphia district, with nine railroads operating in the territory.

Under the agreement, the railroads have promised to establish a thorough inspection service of all freight cars to prevent illegal liquor shipments and to provide close cooperation among prohibition agents and railroad employees. In return Colonel Wynne has agreed to stop confiscating their cars.

A Toast to the Flag.

Here's to the Red of it—There's not a thread of it, No not a shred of it From foot to head, But heroes bled for it, Faced steel and lead for it, Precious blood shed for it, Bathing it Red.

Here's to the White of it—Thrilled by the sight of it, Who knows the right of it, But feels the might of it Through day and night? Womanhood's care of it, Made manhood dare for it, Purity's prayer for it, Keeps it so White.

Here's to the Blue of it—Beautiful view of it, Heavenly hue of it, Star-spangled dew of it, Constant and true. States stand supreme for it, Diadems gleam for it, Liberty's beam for it, Brightens the Blue.

Here's to the whole of it—Stars, stripes and pole of it, Body and soul of it; On the goal of it, Carry it through. Home or abroad for it, Unsheath the sword for it, Fight in accord for it, RED, WHITE AND BLUE!

"You can't imagine what I've suffered from dyspepsia in the last ten years," she said. "Is that possible?" exclaimed her friend. "You look so healthy, I didn't suppose you—"

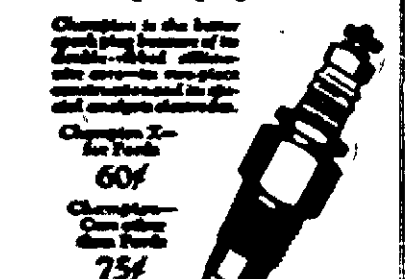

"Oh, it isn't I, it's my husband who has it," she hastened to explain.

Expect Keenest Fight for Honors In Varsity Race

Naval Academy Made a Pronounced Favorite to Win Varsity Race—California Picked as Far West's Chief Threat.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 28 (P).—A rowing season dominated by upsets and form reversal will come to a climax tomorrow in the scheduled championship regatta with prospects pointing today to the keenest battle in years for the chief prize in the varsity four-mile race down the Hudson.

Coaches who put the finishing touches today to the drilling of the seven varsity contenders were unanimous in regarding this year's race as the most "open" in many seasons, a test likely to find four or five of the rivals so closely matched that anything may happen to turn the "dope" tippy tury as already has occurred in Yale's setbacks by Princeton and Harvard, besides Washington's defeat by California.

Notwithstanding the views of the men guiding the destinies of the 18 crews entered in the three title races—freshman, "jockey" and varsity—the naval academy has been made a pronounced favorite to win the varsity race, with California instead of the championship Washington eight picked as the far west's chief threat, and either Cornell or Columbia, or both, as the main contenders among the four members of the intercollegiate rowing association.

Form displayed during the past week or two, the Navy, California and Cornell seem to have an edge. Two of these, however, have lost regulars within the past few days to upset their machines. Just how seriously they will be affected cannot be forecast, but Bob Butler, Navy coach, frankly declared today the Middle would feel the loss of their star number seven, Anderson, in spite of the apparent capabilities of his sub, Lincoln. Cornell has lost its number two man, Hopper, ill with tonsillitis, and probably will start the big race with his place occupied by John M. Francis, third member of a famous rowing family to be in Cornell's varsity.

California has good chance. California, intact and in good shape, appears to have an excellent chance of lifting the big prize for the first time but Washington, if its workouts are sufficient criterion, measures considerably below its 1926 championship standard. Both the Navy and Washington have only three survivors of the great boatloads that fought it out for supremacy last year, separated by only a second at the finish.

Close to 100,000 spectators may witness the regatta spectacle tomorrow, according to advance indication. Elaborate arrangements have been made to handle throngs on boats, shore and observation trains. The first event on the program scheduled at 4 p. m. (eastern daylight time) will bring together a record field of seven freshman crews in a two mile battle in which the unbeaten Naval Academy "plebes" will be strong favorites. Wisconsin's only entry is in this race along with California, Cornell, Syracuse, Columbia and Pennsylvania.

The junior varsity contest, at three miles, scheduled at 5 p. m., will find Washington defending another title against four rivals, Cornell, California, Pennsylvania and Columbia. The varsity pull is fixed for six p. m.

Williams's Homer Beats P. O.-City

Circuit Clout in Last Inning Wins for the West Shore Nine—Hush Hurl's Good Game.

Ralph Williams brought to a close one of the best games of the season, at the Athletic Field Monday evening when he hit a home run in the last inning over the automobiles on Smith avenue, and enabled the West Shore Railroad team to defeat the P. O.-City by a score of 7-5. One runner was on the bags at the time. The loss dropped the P. O.-City team to third place, one-half game behind the West Shore, who moved into second place.

The P. O.-City team had staged one of its well-known last-inning rallies, tying the score after trailing the Railroaders throughout the contest.

Besides hitting the home run Williams also collected two singles. Bush was the next heaviest hitter, piling out three singles. Bush also pitched a good brand of baseball for the Railroaders. He was never in danger until the last inning and then he was the victim of poor throwing, four errors being made by his teammates, the only ones they made during the game. Robins tossed them over for the Mail Carriers and was hit hard at all times.

The Railroaders picked up one run in the first inning on a double by Leskie and a single by Snyder. In the third inning they corralled three more runs. H. Bruck singled, Leskie received a walk and Snyder was safe on Davitt's error. Bruck scoring. Bush hit a Texas Leaguer over second base and Leskie and Snyder hit the rubber.

The P. O.-City team scored its first run in the fourth inning. Bush losing control for a brief spell. He walked Lynch and then made a wild pitch, allowing him to advance to second. He talked on Robins's single to left field.

Successive singles by T. McGuire and Bush and an error by Wheeler added one more run to the Railroaders' total in the fifth inning. The P. O.-City made a strong bid for the game in the sixth inning, bunting three hits for two runs.

After two were out Robins singled. McGrane doubled to center field and Meeker repeated, hitting one in the same place, scoring both runners. The Railroaders could do nothing in their half.

The Combination team threatened again in the last inning, scoring two runs without a hit. Snyder made the first error and Newkirk was safe on first base. Wheeler hit to Leskie and he also erred. Davitt struck out and Newkirk reached third on Snyder's second error. Lynch hit to Leskie and he made his second error. Newkirk scoring. Wheeler scored on Schwab's sacrifice fly. Robins was thrown out at first base.

Robins had two men struck out in the last half of the last inning when Davitt made a bad throw to Meeker at first base. Then Williams connected for his home run which won the game.

The largest crowd of the season attended the game.

Snyder, the Railroaders' new third baseman, made a nice pickup in the first inning on Robins's grounder.

Shultz made what everybody thought was a triple in the first inning, but he failed to touch first base and the only thing he got was a time at bat.

Williams's home run was the first one made in the Industrial League games this season. And what a healthy clout it was. At least the P. O.-City thought so.

Bush has won all the games for the West Shore. As yet he has not been defeated.

Palens play the U. & D.-Cornell tonight. Game called at 6:15.

American Athletes Are Too Intensive

"Your fellows go at their games much more intensely than we do," remarks an English athletic star attending an American track meet. "Perhaps that accounts for the fact that so many of your American college stars 'burn out' after brief competitive careers. They put all they have into three or four years of keen action. In England we take track and field sports less seriously; we do not train so sharply, either. One of my leading rivals in the hurdles, for instance, is a man thirty-two years of age, getting better at an age when nearly all of your Americans have retired from competition."

BATS TOO LARGE, N. ALTROCK QUIT

Couldn't Get the Ball Past the Heavy Hitters.

"It may not always pay to be too serious in sport," says Billy Evans. "Take the case of our old friend Nick Altrock, for instance. "Back in 1906, Smiling Nick, rated one of the very best southpaws in the majors, received in the neighborhood of $4,000 for his services. Today, Nick Altrock, as a member of the team of baseball comedians of Altrock and Schacht, receives much in excess of that amount."

"When Altrock's arm went back on him, he turned from the serious profession of winning ball games as a pitcher to clowning, and got away with it. Fortunately in possessing a keen sense of humor, Nick was even able to get a laugh out of his passing from the game as an active player.

"Like most big leaguers, Nick took a whirl at the minors, before he was willing to admit that he was through. Taking a berth with a job in the American association, he pitched with varying success."

"The manager of the club, fond of Nick, tried his best to have him reconsider his decision to retire."

"If you can give me on good reason for quitting, I will accept your resignation," he told Altrock. "That's easy," replied Nick, "the bats are simply too big. I can't throw that little ball past them."

"The resignation was accepted."

McGraw Changed Batting Style of Eddie Farrell

McGraw changed Eddie Farrell's hitting style at the training camp at Sarasota, Fla., this spring and made a real hitter out of the little shortstop. While Farrell was considered a brilliant fielder when he came to the Giants from Penn. it was thought that his hitting would prevent him from becoming a big league star.

Last year Farrell's cut at the ball was not free enough to suit McGraw. He was known as a "choke hitter." This spring McGraw taught the shortstop how to hit with a free and easy swing, and now Farrell is one of the batting heroes of the 1927 season.

Big league managers often change the batting styles of recruit players. Wally Pipp was a poor hitter when he first came to the big show as a member of the Detroit Tigers. Jennings changed Pipp's swing and the first baseman quickly developed into one of the best hitters in the American league.

Strain on Oarsmen Very Slight, Declares Coach

If one is to accept the word of Ky. Bright, California's rowing coach, the customary strain is not half the strain upon the sweaters that it seems.

"Although the rower is the picture of sheer fatigue at the conclusion of a workout or a heated race, no particular harm is done in bringing about this state of exhaustion, according to the Bear coach. The crew man receives a steady diet of exercising. He is brought along slowly but steadily. As his skill, strength and stamina increase, the length and severity of the workouts also increase. Work is not galled upon the sweaters as it was a year ago."

Calm, cold consideration is given the oarsman's physical condition. As his power grows, so does the load. As the leg muscles harden, as the shoulders grow broader and the chest expands, so the training schedule widens and

Ancient Abbeys

An abbey is a monastery of the highest order ruled by an abbot or an abbess. A church always formed the nucleus of an abbey. "The Abbot" is the title of a novel by Sir Walter Scott, founded upon incidents in the life of Queen Mary of Scotland.

Tilden Will Not Turn Pro

Wimbledon, England, June 28 (P).—Awakened after midnight by an agent of a world known promoter inquiring whether he would consider an offer to become a professional tennis star, Bill Tilden declared that he would not—"not for a million dollars—just now."

The figures mentioned in the offer to Tilden are understood to have been much below those which have been talked of in the newspapers as flaunted before the faces of the amateur tennis players competing in the Wimbledon tournament.

"Please stop that flow of money," Tilden said sleepily to a correspondent of The Associated Press who called a few minutes after the promoter's representatives had left.

"I have two extremely hard matches to play before I reach the championships. If I lose either, I wouldn't be worth half of what these gentlemen promise me. I play tennis because I like the game. That's how I feel just now. How I will feel six months from now nobody knows."

SENATORS DEFEATED RONDOUT A. C., 8-7

The Rondout A. C. lost to the Senators in a closely fought contest at Block Park Monday night. The score was 8-7. The Rondouts took a lead of four runs in the second, both teams having gone through the initial inning scoreless. Then in the third the Senators came through with three. In the fifth stanza they corralled four while the Rondouts scored one. In the sixth the Rondouts endeavored to rally and in their strong effort tied the score. When the Senators came to bat in the terminating inning they registered one run which gave them the contest.

Batteries—Senators, Merritt and Dulin, Rondouts, Doyle, Peters and Kosloski.

BERLENBACH SCORES ONE-ROUND KNOCKOUT

New York, June 28 (P).—Scoring a sensational one-round knockout over Charles Rammel, Austrian heavyweight, Paul Berlenbach today was out to prove to the pugilistic world that some of his best fighting days are still ahead.

It took the dynamite fists of the former light-heavyweight champion just two minutes and 33 seconds of fighting in the first battle of his comeback campaign last night to batter his opponent so badly the referee stopped the bout and awarded Berlenbach a technical "kay." The fight was scheduled for ten rounds.

Comes Back

After being idle and out of the game for two years, Bill Tilden returns. And today he's Brooklyn's leading pitcher.

Game at Block Park

The Highlanders and the Rinkydinks will perform in the initial of a five game series at Block Park Thursday evening. The Rinkydinks hold one victory over the famous Seventh Ward aggregation and the interest in the vicinity of the Abell street diamond is expected to draw large crowds to witness the combats.

Turtle and Turtle Dove

The origin of the word "turtle" is unknown. It is an old Anglo-Saxon word and was applied to doves long before it was to reptiles. Webster's International dictionary suggests that it may have been of imitative origin and originally referred to the noise made by doves.

Tart Temper

A tart temper never mellow with age, and a sharp tongue is the only edge-tool that grows keener with constant use.—Washington Irving.

If you asked William Collier which cigarette he prefers, he'd say to you:

William Collier, veteran actor and favorite comedian

"It was a happy day for me when I became acquainted with Lucky Strikes, for I enjoy smoking but must be careful. I find Lucky Strikes never offend my throat in the slightest."

William Collier

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

New "Marrying Parson" Arrives

Elkton, Md., June 28 (P).—The jittery drivers of this little town today appeared to have removed the crown of "marrying parson" from the brow of the Rev. Richard T. Westren almost as neatly as the Rev. Dr. J. W. Colona, superintendent of the Wilmington district of the Methodist Episcopal conference, would have that act performed by the state of Maryland.

Further, the golden coronet is in the way of being placed by these same drivers upon the head of the Rev. Hiram Mowry, a retired member of the Philadelphia conference. Mowry came here from his Greenwood, Pa., home when the storm of controversy over Westren's power to perform marriage ceremonies was at its height.

The jittery drivers—a half dozen men who make their living, in whole or part, by driving prospective brides and grooms from the railway station to minister's house—want their return fares to be free of any qualms as to the thoroughness of the procedure. They met Mr. Mowry upon his arrival and after a parley convinced him to the state's attorney's office.

There the seventy year old pastor was requested to show his orders. Mr. Mowry produced papers showing, to the satisfaction of all present, that he was an ordained minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. As a result, four or five couples were delivered at the Rev. Mowry's door yesterday, while Mr. Westren did not perform a single marriage.

The status of some 500 marriages at which Mr. Westren officiated since the beginning of this year was brought into question last week when Superintendent Colona obtained a ruling from Bishop William F. McDowell that Westren was without standing as a Methodist Episcopal minister.

Big Demand for Pageant Programs

Contains Story of Pageant, Cast of Characters, Articles Supplementing Pageant Story, Pictures and Artistic Advertisements.

Pageant programs on advanced sale are going like the proverbial hot cakes. Patrons are amazed at the type of book and the absurd price for which it is selling. The low selling price, twenty-five cents, is possible only through the generous support given the project by the business men of Kingston and its environs.

The program is really a pretentious affair. It contains the story of the Pageant will contain sufficient historic material to afford an adequate background for the perfect understanding of every episode. This is from the pen of Bruce Bennett and is an unusual bit of writing. The cast of characters appears in toto. This in itself is no mean undertaking. Throughout the book, appear pictures characteristic of historic Ulster. There is an article written by Secretary Coe of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, and another written by Everett Fowler, both heartily endorsing the project.

The advertising which is scattered throughout the book is designed to conform to the general character of the project and does not detract from its artistic. The advertising in every case is attractive and interesting. The supply of programs is of course limited. Judging by the reception given their appearance the edition of 10,000 is insufficient. Patrons will do well to purchase a program at once.

Pageant spectators will enjoy following the enactment of the Pageant and will want the program for a souvenir. Thursday, June 30, so that when Ulster's great day has joined the galaxy of glories that crowd the limbo of the past, one may turn the program's pages and relive that wonderful afternoon, the last in June '27.

Program books are now on sale at the stores of S. Bernstein Co., L. B. Van Wageningen, C. E. Wonderly, E. Winter's Sons, Safford & Scudder, S. Cohen's Sons, Charles Warren, M. H. Herzog, Stuyvesant Hotel, Kirkland Hotel, Governor Clinton Hotel, Y. M. C. A., Chamber of Commerce, Home Bureau Office and Farm Bureau Office and Connolly Drug Co.

PROF. LOUGHRAN ADDRESSES SAUGERTIES GRADUATES

John T. Loughran of this city, professor of law in Fordham University, addressed the thirteen graduates of St. Mary's School, Saugerties, on Sunday when the Commencement exercises were held. The Rev. Martin P. O'Gara, pastor, formerly of St. Joseph's Church, this city, presided and awarded the diplomas and class rings.

Fireworks in Saugerties. There will be a mammoth fireworks display at Saugerties on the night of July 4. The Chamber of Commerce will supervise the program. One of the feature displays will be that of a Lindbergh flying machine.

Cottage Prayer Meeting Tonight. A cottage prayer meeting will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. Bell, 117 South Main avenue, at 7:45 o'clock. The Rev. Justin Fields will lead the discussion.

Telephone's Beginning. In 1876 the first words were transmitted by telephone, but the first complete sentence was not transmitted until 1876.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(A 1927, Woman's Newspaper Column.)
Wouldn't shape a noble life?
Then cast
No backward glances toward the past.
And though somewhat to be lost and gone,
Yet do thou act as one new-born.
What each day needs, that shalt thou ask.
Each day will set its proper task.

TIMELY TIPS

A good workman has good tools and takes pride in their care. Utensils in the kitchen should last for years with proper use. Such things as egg beaters, or any utensils that turn with a crank and have oil in their gearing, should never be put into water up to the gearing unless soiled, then wash quickly with clear hot water and dry thoroughly before putting away.

Tins, molds, sheet iron pans and all utensils subject to rust, should be carefully dried before putting away. It is wise to grease lightly with unsalted fat unless used at least once a week.

Be careful of the bone, wood or pearl-handled cutlery. Such should never be dropped into water but washed and rinsed and dried with a soft cloth. Blades unless used for fat should never be washed with soap; clean with a brush, using soda instead of soap. Graters if washed as soon as possible (using a vegetable brush), rinsed and dried, will never need soaking.

All saucepans should be as bright and clean outside as inside. This is not always easy, but if they are never allowed to keep a spot, the work is not hard.

Dish towels, if rinsed in cold water, then washed in hot suds will keep white.

Butter crumbs by putting them into a dish with melted butter then stirring until well and evenly buttered. These crumbs are much better for any dish using such crumbs than if dry crumbs are dotted with bits of butter.

When working with almonds, either pounding them or grinding, add a few drops of rose water to keep them from oiling.

Bread crumbs are better used for all foods which are fried than cracker crumbs, as the latter soak fat.

Croquettes, meat balls and such dishes may be prepared and covered with bread crumbs the day before, then fry when needed.

PRUDENTIAL AGENTS RETURN FROM OUTING

Fifty of the local district agents of the Prudential Insurance Company returned home Sunday from their trip to Atlantic City, N. J. The agents, from Kingston, Phoenixia, Saugerties and Catskill left Kingston Friday morning early and motored to the popular Jersey shore city in two of the Myers auto busses. Excellent weather was encountered during the trip and all report a most enjoyable outing. The trip was made by practically all of the agents of the Kingston District which included the territory north of Catskill.

Nature's Laws Unbroken

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Sports Clothes Are Gay in Color. Blues Are Strong, Pique and Other Cottons Prevalent. Themeselves for Warm Weather Wear.

New York.—A few days ago, a woman who was opening a sports shop at a fashionable resort wanted advice as to what color hangings she should choose. She added, "Naturally, the sports clothes are very colorful." Naturally. It seems as though the rainbow had been drained of its beauty for them, yet for all that there is a refreshing refrain of beige and gray, and more than the usual amount of white.

Contributing largely to the brilliant color effects are the vivid velveteen coats smart girls are wearing, sometimes in town as well as in the country. Roadsters fly by leaving an impression of a streak of indigo, for many of the smarter women are going for bright blue sports clothes.

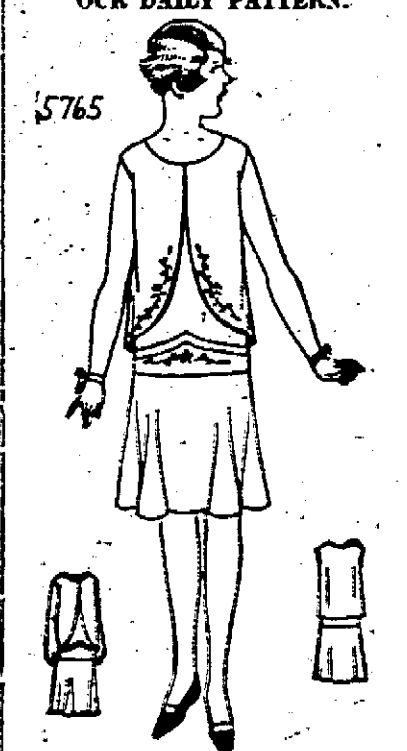

A Summer's Day Frock of Yellow Pique and Eyelet-Embroidered Linen. Worn With a Natural Bangkok.

Blue flannel adds a nautical touch, especially when the coat is double-breasted, which is usually the case. There is a tendency to popularize silk suits, and to revive lovely cottons. Pique combined with softer materials is chosen for the summer dress sketched, a model of interest also because of the eyelet embroidery introduced in the blouse. This model would be effective in a combination of plain and printed material. The bowed belt is charming and in keeping with the bowed wrist-band and the natural straw hat, the band of which bows, by way of change, directly at the back.

One may select novelty hose, in mixtures of silk and linen, for such a costume and should further accent the summery touch by wearing parchment or other light tone shoes. (Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Charming Frock for the Growing Girl.

5765. Crepe de chine, embroidered in self color, was selected for this model. Skirt and waist are joined by a shaped belt which has two tiers in front. The sleeves may be omitted. As a party or afternoon dress this style is very attractive. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress as illustrated in the large view, for a 10 year size, will require 3 yards of 32 inch material. If made with long sleeves 3 1/2 yards will be required.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1927 Book of Patterns showing color plates, and containing 300 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some poems for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Compose, Jacket Suit Featured This Season

The compose or jacket suit is a distinct feature of this season. Trim tailors with dark jackets and skirt of contrasting materials are much in the limelight for daytime wear. Gwen Lee, the motion picture star, in "Heaven and Earth," wears the attractive outfit here shown, and in which natural kaasha, with a jacket of black velvet are most prominent.

Standardization Fad May Hit Foot and Footwear

Women's feet are getting larger. For generations the average size of the foot of the American woman has been 4B. But the modern girl has outgrown this standard, according to figures published by the Woman's Home Companion, and the average size at present is nearly half an inch longer and a full size wider than that of a brief decade ago.

Athletics, dancing and much walking on pavements are advanced as the principal reasons for the increasing size of the feminine foot.

Some accompanying information on footwear includes the fact that women's feet show less variety in size than formerly. Standardization is apparently in process of evolution. A great industrialist, asked how he would apply modern methods of mass production to shoes, replied that he would make only one style and only one size—the average—and compel all persons with feet larger or smaller than the average to go elsewhere and pay higher prices. Women with the particularly dainty feet and men with particularly big ones may therefore some day have to go to the custom bootmaker, and, as the industrialist waggishly observes, "foot the bill as gracefully as possible."

On the other hand, this survey of feminine feet and footwear shows that hosiery is defying the standardizer. One large company which in 1920 carried 480 varieties—styles, colors and sizes—of stockings now has to carry 6,000, because fashion has decreed a profusion of colors. The latest idea, just being launched, is that instead of selling hose by the pair, they shall be sold in packages of three stockings to match—the "apart" is to be used in case of runs, rips or splashes. This is being advanced as an economy measure. Like the extra pair of pants with father's suit. It was not necessary, however, in the old days when all the hosiery in a woman's wardrobe was black and interchangeable.

Buttons Must Work on Latest Spring Attire

Every button—and there are many—on the new spring things, must have its buttonhole and a part to play in actually fastening the dress. Rows of buttons are seen on coats and dresses but never as mere ornaments. They must serve some purpose to be smart. Matching buttons and buckles are put out by Paris trimming houses for spring use. The buckle is almost as important as the button in the dressmaker's scheme of closing things.

Contrast in Slippers of Satin

A new note in fashion is revealed in slippers of satin to match the frock, but with contrast introduced in a double loop of inch-wide velvet ribbon which serves for a buckle. The contrast is always striking, such as violet and green, coral and blue, or purple and violet.

New Evening Coats

The evening coat is the latest garment to grow shorter, and Paris now says "three-quarters is the length." Made of metal brocades in very small geometrical patterns or unobtrusive stripes, the coats of the spring collections often bear free from the wearer in a graceful effect.

Suits of Jersey

For practical purposes as well as chic, few fashions are more satisfactory than a man-tailored suit of Jersey in the smart new spring colors. The jacket is short and trim, as is the skirt, and the tailored blouse is of small patterned printed silk with a chemise front.

Famed in History as Warrior and Builder

Among the most important monarchs who governed a mighty civilization centuries before Athens came into being was Sesostris, a great warrior and a great builder, who ruled Egypt not long after the death of Tutankhamun. Sesostris I, founder of the nineteenth dynasty of Egypt, ruled only two years and was then succeeded by his son, Sesostris II. The young ruler took up the task bequeathed to him by his father of leading his conquering armies into Asia. He marched to Lebanon and compelled the Syrian princes to cut down some of the famous cedars for his triumph. He overran the Philistine country, marched through Palestine and shattered the Amorites. He also had conflict with the Hittites of Asia Minor, but little is known of his wars with them. Sesostris' military achievements, however, were not as great as his building ability. His temple at Abydos and his gathered tomb in the Valley of the Tombs of the Kings stand out as among the most amazing architectural triumphs devised by mind of man.—Detroit News.

Hard to Eradicate

Myths About Snakes

Fear of snakes has led to a belief in various myths about the habits of different species. Children pass along the legend that the hoop snake possesses the power to form itself into a hoop and roll in pursuit of its victim.

Tradition holds that the so-called glass or jointed snake has the ability to break into pieces, and may reassemble itself later—if its head has not been captured or destroyed. Then there is the myth of the slithering snake. Although this snake has a somewhat formidable tail shaped like a horn or spike, it is incapable of gliding or slithering anything with it. Perhaps the most popular of these myths concerns the belief that if one throw a hair from a horse's tail into a river or lake the hair will promptly turn into a water snake and swim.

Democratic State Convention.
New York, June 28 (AP).—The next democratic state convention will be held at Albany on September 29, the state committee has decided today.

The funeral of Rebecca C. Shultz, wife of Abraham W. Hoffman, who died at her home in this city on Friday, June 24, was held in the Reformed Church at Ulster Park, of which Mrs. Hoffman had been a member for 25 years, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The service, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley of this city, assisted by the Rev. George W. Gallick of Ulster Park, was one provided in the liturgy of the Reformed Church. Without sermon or eulogy, in accordance with the desires of Mrs. Hoffman, and was followed by the committal service in Pleasant View cemetery. Dr. Seeley officiating. At the church Mrs. Arthur Wick of Kingston joyfully sang "Nearer My God to Thee". Mrs. William S. Elliott sang at the organ. The pall bearers were Richard J. Gardner, Simon W. Heston, Henry W. Osborn, Herbert Schmitt, Charles E. Schmitt and Charles H. Schnoemaker, all for more than 20 years members of Ulster Park Grange, Patrons of Hosi-been a member for 23 years. In addition to the many beautiful floral offerings from individual friends, there were floral pieces from Union Park Grange, the Walling Workers and the Union Park Church. The Western Publishing Company and its executive committee of the U-

No Signs of Good Weather For Paris Trip

Byrd Will Not Leave Before Wednesday Morning—Storms Likely to Lead to Route Via Bermuda and the Azores.

New York, June 28 (AP).—Storms of the type that have held Commander Richard E. Byrd and his crew of three earthbound for weeks are regarded by the weather man as likely to lead to choice of a transatlantic route via Bermuda and the Azores in preference to the great circle course.

Dr. James K. Kimball, assistant meteorologist of the United States weather bureau, who advised both Lindbergh and Chamberlin on weather conditions for their European flights, believes the great circle, or northern course, will always present its obstacle of storm and wind. "We have the men and the courage—that has been demonstrated," he said. "But I cannot possibly conceive of an airplane built in the next few years that can ride out a north Atlantic gale with any degree of safety."

It was agreed that tomorrow morning would be the earliest possible hour for a departure, with the probability that favorable weather would not arrive until later.

In discussing his plans, Byrd, according to the New York World, inadvertently indicated he intends to fly back across the Atlantic if he succeeds in his flight to Paris.

Commander Byrd, says the World, has been telling his reporter he planned to fly at a height of 15,000 feet on the way to Paris. "On the way back," he is quoted as saying, "we would probably fly much closer to the surface."

When pressed for more on this subject, says the World, Commander Byrd would say nothing.

The big plane meanwhile continues poised atop its starting mound at Roosevelt Field, Long Island.

Unable to Confirm Nungesser Rumor

Ottawa, June 28 (AP).—Another rumor, apparently baseless, that the French aviators, Nungesser and Gali, have been found alive, was current for a time here today.

The rumor originated in a message said to have been sent by Frank James of Seattle, Wash., to Charles Stewart, minister of the interior at Ottawa, asserting that the missing had been found near the north shore of "Ghost Lake," east of the town of "Calcut," in northeastern Quebec. The message said that both men were badly in need of medical attention.

The department of the interior began an investigation of the message. Nothing is known in Ottawa of Frank James nor is there any such town or lake as those given in the message.

Planes Hop Off From Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28 (AP).—Two hundred and fifty-five miles of cross country flying through the heart of New York state was the stunt set for the fourteen airplanes in the national air tour today.

Leaving Buffalo at one minute intervals beginning at 10 o'clock standard time, the air armada's course was pointed for Geneva, 95 miles from Buffalo. After landing at Geneva, for luncheon, the planes continue to Schenectady, in the early afternoon, completing the day's schedule on the air field of the Mohawk valley city.

A trim Stinson monoplane, piloted by Edward A. Stinson of Detroit and handicapped with the heaviest load in proportion to its size and power, had the largest point total as the flotilla faced the starter's signal this morning. The Stinson, assigned to score 408.5 points in yesterday's run to this city, lived up to the demands placed upon it, and crossed the finish line within the time allowed it under the rules of the contest.

The regulations demand that each entrant perform each day in accordance with a standard set for its mark as based on several factors, including the speed of the plane, its lifting capacity, the time it requires for taking off or for coming to a halt, and the displacement of its engine.

If a plane performs perfectly in all respects it is given its maximum credit, but deductions are made should it fail in any particular. Twelve planes received perfect scores yesterday.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, June 28 (AP).—American Bond and Mortgage Company announces that the $4,000,000 first mortgage 6 1/2 per cent gold bonds of Tremont Street Railway Company, Boston, are called for redemption at 102 and accrued interest on September 15.

May net operating income of the Pennsylvania Railroad for $10,997,095 from $9,064,113 in May last year and for the five months of 1927 to $42,203,718 from $33,876,449 in the same period of 1926. Surplus of the New York, New Haven and Hartford for the month was $827,723 after charges against $725,465 a year ago and for the five months, $1,765,968 against $2,596,143 in the same period last year.

Analysis of the industrial reports received from seven important centers reveals nothing in the way of substantial improvement in the trend of machinery and machine tool business, American Mechanics reports. Light flurries in buying interest occurred in a few localities but in most cases a lessening of activity has been noted.

Bird of Many Colors
The California condor is a spectacular bird. His head and neck are quite devoid of feathers, says Nature Magazine, but the skin is colored a dozen different hues, as though nature had experimented with all her cosmetics in order to give the bird's complexion the hues of a rainbow. The head itself is a brilliant orange, with a subtle play of lighter yellow and darker fire color. The throat changes from orange to a beautiful lavender, which in turn becomes jade green on the sides and base of the neck.

History of Wheat
Wheat from the farms of today is not much different from that grown in ancient Egypt when slaves were building the pyramids, specimens harvested at least 5,000 years ago and recently found in Mesopotamia indicate, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The grains were discovered by Prof. Stephen Langdon and were in an excellent state of preservation. The find supports the claims of those who believe that wheat raising had its origin in that section of the world.
